TROTTING AT THE PROSPECT PARK FAIR

the juncture of the Coney Island road and the Bath and Flatlands turnpike, about five miles from the Brooklyn City Hall, and three miles from Prospect ark. They are accessible by several fine roads and he Coney Island railroad cars. The attendance at ese beautiful grounds yesterday afternoon was numerous and imposing. At an early hour splendid quipages arrived by the hundred, filled with adies and gentiemen, and at the time for the rotting to commence the spacious enclosures were legantly filed. The balconies of the unfinished b house were graced by the beauty and fashion of ong Island. A more beautiful assemblage was ever witnessed on a trotting course. The weather as delightful, the breeze from the ocean balmy and ivigorating and the sport highly entertaining, verything passed off agreeably, and those who ere present were strongly impressed with the be-ef that this will become, when finished, the most opular trotting ground in the country. Nothing t respectability will be found there and the enterse must be appreciated.

The sport yesterday consisted of four trots-the rst for a silver pitcher, mile heats, best three in ve, to road wagons; the second a sweepstakes, lile heats, to road wagons; a double team trot, a gie dash of a mile, and a team trot against time. the first trot there were four starters-Mr. None's black mare, Mr. Jackson's brown gelding, Mr. etcher's roan gelding and Mr. Witty's bay mare. ey trotted three heats, Mr. Nodine winning the e very cleverly in good time, considering the eavy condition of the track. Third Heat.—The horses had a very even start, but Nodine soon drew away from the others and led to the quarter pole two lengths, Jackson second, four lengths ahead of Fletcher and Witty, who were side by side and hoth up. Time, forty-one and a quarter seconds. Going down the backstretch Nodine opened the gap, and at the half-mile pole led four lengths, Jackson second, four lengths clear of Fletcher, who was half a length in front of Witty. Time, 1:224. The horses were widely strung out on the lower turn, and at the three-quarter pole Nodine had the best of it by six lengths, Jackson second, leight lengths ahead of Fletcher, Witty three lengths will be seen the control of the tax and the pitcher by half a dozen lengths, Jackson second, live lengths ahead of Fletcher, who led Witty about our lengths. THE PRIZE RING.

There is every prospect of Billy Edwards and Barney Aaron meeting. Unquestionably, such a match would give great satisfaction to the pugilistic community, for most determined and well contested fight would be the result. Although some misunderstanding has already taken place relative to the stakes, it appears that the preliminaries have been arranged and that within a month hence the battle will have been decided.

Patsy Sheppard, a young though promising light weight, is also spoken of as an eligible match for Fawards. Together with having fought two battles in Ireland, be has shown pluck in his encounters with Mike Coburn and Reardon on this side of the vater.

Tom Kelly has challenged George Rooke for $1,000 side to fight within two months from signing articles, at 15d pounds.
On Monday last two prize fights occurred near Allaps. The first was between Gride and Others to for a ourse of $500. After twenty-one rounds had been fought both ouglists gave up the contest. The other battle was between folinson and Henderer. The latter won in five rounds.

Five fights are announced to come off within the next month. The following are the names of the several contestants:—November 7, E. Martin and P. Tracey, for $1,000, in Massachusetts; November 1P. W. Hogan and M. Conklyn, for $400, in Pennsylvania; November 21, J. Caliahan and P. Scanlan, for $1,000; November 27, J. Donovan and W. Mangels, for $500, in Pennsylvania; November 27, D. Marston and W. Guncon, for $500, in Pennsylvania.

A. Hicken and P. Maguire are to contend for $2,000 in Virginia on December 23.

Dion has accepted Foster's challenge and, answering it, says that to show Foster he is not afraid to play in New York he is willing to decide by a toss whether they play in New York or Montreal, if only one game be played. If Foster wishes two kinds of games he will play one in Montreal and the other in this city, and should the result prove a tie a third game of either to be played, the kind of game and this city, and should the result prove a tie a third game of either to be played, the kind of game and place to be decided by a toss. With that stipulation Dion accepts the challenge to play Foster the regular American game, with or without the push (crotching barred in both), on the regular standard table, 11 by 54, with 234 inch balls, 1.500 points up, for $2,500 aside, to be played in thirty or sixty days from November 1; $500 or $1,000 forfeit to be put up on the 1st November, and the whole stake of $5,000 to be all up fifteen days before the match. Dion in his communication further adds that if Foster wishes to play him two kinds of games he will accept his own challenge to play the French game of 250 or 300 points and the four ball game of 1,000 or 1,200 points up, pushing shots and crotching barred, and the stakes to be $1,000; a game to be played on a standard American carrom table, of second size, with 234 inch balls; $500 forfeit in each game to be put up on November 1 and the whole stakes on each game to be put up five days previous to the day of the match; the first game to be played thirty days from November 1; the second to be played forty, fifty or sixty days from same date. Dion, in conclusion, states that it would be a much better way to test the skill at the American game to play it on the regular four pocket table; but if Foster should object to play unless on a carrom he will accede to his wishes. It is expected that all preliminaries will be completed and the match arranged.

Rudolphe in an exhibition French carrom game at 100 points, deteated Dion at Montreal. In the evening a large assemblage congregated to witness another game, seventy-dve points up. McDevitt, of Chicago, and Goldthwait, of this city, have completed arrangements for a match to be played at Chicago, between the 6th and 16th of December, for $500 a side. The game is to be played according to the rules regulating champion matches, which admits of the push shot.

on common sense. Sheridan is now opposed to the redskins, and it remains to be seen whether he will make a better show than did Kearney with Billy Bowiess. The Comanches despise our cavalry, or at least used to, their tactics being to shake their blankets in the face of the charging regulars when within a few feet of their lines with the most satisfactory result. It would be more picturesque to behold than pleasant to listen to Sheridan balked in such a manner.

Mr. Michael J. Dunn, first lieutenant in the First cavairy, N. G., S. N. Y., was lately promoted to General Postlev's staff, with the rank of captain. Captain Dunn was a good company officer and was deservedly popular. There can be no doubt that he will be useful on the staff. Energetic and capable officers are necessary on our several brigade staffs. The First cavalry, N. G., S. N. Y., was inspected, dismounted at the State Arsenal, Thirty-fith street, on Wednesday night. The battalion mustered about 425 sabres and presented a fine appearance. The inspection, which was held by Major Tweed, was very satisfactory. Nine troops were present, under the command of Colonel Henry Brinker.

Brigadler General Crooke, of the Second division, who has defled the Commander-in-Chief of the National Guard, will soon be passed through the crucible of a court martial.

Company b. Twenty-second regiment, will give an entertainment on the 11th of next month. Those who are acquainted with the organization will expect nothing clse than a rousing time.

The Washington Gravs should arrange for a parade of the battalion. Major Kent, formerly of the United States Army, who is a most c-pable officer, is giving so much attention to the drill and discipline of his command that the very best results may be expected from an exhibition cavalry drill under his supervision.

A SEVENTEEN THOUSAND DOLLAR ROBBERY.

An Importing Jeweller Fleeced-No Probability of Recovering the Property.

Some three months ago an importer of watches, jewelry and notions, who supplies the trade generally, became acquainted in this city with a young Hungarian of pleasing address and infatuating man-ner, whose Winning ways favorably impressed the importer. S. H. Germain, and the result was he entrusted his customer with certain property, consisttrusted his chatomer with certain property, consisting of sixty-live gold watches, single and double cases; 424 sliver watches, gold chains, revolvers, and other property amounting in the aggregate to over $17,000, to take to Chicago for the purpose of seiling for his benefit, the latter to receive a commission. It seems that the importer delivered these goods without taking anyguarantee that would protect him.

a commission. It seems that the importer delivered these goods without taking anyguarantee that would protect him.

The young Hungarian departed for the West, Days and weeks passed without Mr. Germain receiving any intelligence of his agent or his goods. He became airmed, and on pushing imquires discovered that he had been defranded. Inspector Diks, of the Central office, was consuited, and uponshis advice cards were circulated throughout the country containing a photograph of the agent, tendering a handsome reward for the recovery of the property or intelligence that would lead to that end. The incentive was certainly strong for the detectives of New York and other cities to work up the case; but for weeks all their efforts have been futile. Intelligence was received here on Tuesday that the regue had been in Chicago and departed for the West. The detectives have shandoned the case as one beyond their ken, but as the accused was recently in Kansas City negotiating for the purchase of certain property there, it is barrely possible that some town constable out there may accomplish what all the detectives between New York and the Southwest have tried in vain.

Putnam's Monthly Magazine.—The November

Putnam's Monthly Magazine.—The November number of this periodical is fair. Its contents are made up of seventeen articles, together with the monthly chronicle of current events, literary gossip, fine arts and table talk.

The Altanic Monthly.—The number for the coming month does not reach that excellence which, in times past, characterized this popular magazine. However, it contains some interesting papers.

The Overland Monthly.—This new candidate for public patronage makes considerable progress. The number for the present month excells its predecessor. Seventeen articles, of varied interest, are enumerated in its contents.

Lippincott's Magazine has an article on "A Scientific Expedition to Alaska," giving an extended description of that country, its fisheries, minorals, furtrade, timber, climate, harbors and pseuliar geographical situation. The other articles are exceedingly interesting.

The Broadway.—This London publication is making vigorous headway here. It is now over a year since it has made a palpable hit. The pages of the present number are enriched by the contributions of James Hannay, Henry Kingsley, Newman Hall and other accomplished writers.

A CURIOSITY OF LITERATURE.

Halpine's Prison Life of Davis-Truth Stranger than Fiction.

Halpine's Prison Life of Davis—Truth Stranger than Fiction.

(From the Charleston Mercury, Oct. 22.)

It is asserted that the book entitled "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis," and purporting to be the work of Dr. Craven, was written in nine days by the late General C. G. Halpine.

The above paragraph is going the rounds of the press as an item of strange news.

The book, our readers will remember, came out in New York soon after the release of Mr. Davis on bail from his imprisonment at Fortress Monroe. It was the sensation of the day and excited deep interest for the famous prisoner, whose story of life it assumed to give. While it stirred the hearts of the Southern people, of whose lost cause he was the official head, it swakened the curiosity, removed the prejudices and enlisted the sympathies of Northern men in behalf of one fallen from high estate, a weary, feeble captive, who yet challenged admiration for the equaminity of his bearing and the accomplishments of his mind.

Our readers will be astonished to learn that the statement is true, and that this popular book, over which so much of feeling, of indignation, pity, interest and admiration has been created and expended, is a work of imagination—a novel woven upon stender threads of fact.

Soon after the admission of Mr. Davis to bail, Craven, the surgeon of the post, went to New York, where he met his quondam messmate of the same staff, General Halpine. This literary friend congratalated him forthwith on this opportunity he had to munortalize himself in print and at the same time make money by a book on Jeff Davis. The idea-seemed new to Mr. Craven and he said it was impracticable. Halpine asked him where were his notes. He replied he had none and could not do it. Then said their will write in your name, and we will share the profits. This was agreed to.

Craven furnished three letters of Mrs. Davis to him and some notes written on the margin of a Heratlo by Mr. Davis, touching the points he desired Reverey Johnson to make in defending him for treason. Thu

On the 30th of last month Mr. Thomas Lynn, who for some years has carried at the grocery business at 227 Bank street, New Ark, N. evening. He has not been seen by his friends since, aprication and by his family the left a wife and four children) to discover his whereabouts or his fate have so far proved unsuccessful.

His establishment was left in charge of a brother, who was acting as his clerk, and the family are naturally alarmed at his prolonged absence. Some days ago the brother came to this city and with the aid of a detective from! the Central office traced Mr. Lynn to a place on North Greenwich street, when he was seen at five o'clock of the day upon which he disappeared, At that point the trace was lost, and no further facts have been obtained beyond the circumstances that on the same night a gentleman registered at a well known hotel and early the following morning disappeared, nobody knows in what direction. Mr. Lynn was passionately devoted to his family, and left his bank account of $60,000 or $70,000 untouched beyond the $300 drawn on the morning of his disappearance. The general impression is that he has been waylaid and disposed of. Preparations are being made to advertise a description of the missing man, with a view of solving the mystery that surrounds his singular disappearance.
